

MORNING ANNOUNCEMENT- GROWTH MINDSET

Thursday, DECEMBER 10, 2015

Bollinger reads

GOOD MORNING TOPE FAMILY! Take a moment to breathe in and breathe out and settle in for a few minutes.

We continue to review the importance of having a growth mindset, using the neuroplasticity of your brain AND unleashing the power of YET!

I am going to tell you a little secret about myself. I HAVE FRIENDS... yep, it is true. AND they are extremely important to me. They are positive, emotionally strong, kind and courageous. Most importantly, they demonstrate a growth mindset. They work hard to learn, grow and develop every day! I choose them as my friends because that is WHO I WANT TO BE AND HOW I WANT TO ACT and the more I surround myself with those amazing people, the more I learn and challenge myself to be more like them.

Think about who you surround yourself with? Do they challenge you to be the best you can be? AND.... WHAT ABOUT YOU???? Are you a good influence? Do people want to be around you? Do you all believe in a growth mindset? Do you support each other?

If you have ever heard of Ipad, Iphone, Itunes, Iwatch then you know the company Apple. The following digital text highlights Steve Jobs, the founder of Apple. I would have liked to meet Steve Jobs. He would be someone I would want to watch and observe. He is the EPITOME of growth mindset

As you walk down your path of awesome, think about how your friends influence you. Who do you want to be? Are you surrounding yourself with people who have a growth mindset and challenge you to be the best you can be? Are you doing the same for your friends?

ACTIVITY--

Discuss the video.

What if Steve Jobs hadn't had a growth mindset?

Is success based on hardwork? Is success based on luck? What is success based on?
